Be Counted!

- Did you know that the census determines how much funding Montana gets for the next decade to support everything from school lunches and highways to healthcare and senior services? Make sure our community doesn’t lose out on vital funding by taking the census today!

- Right now, Montana has lower self-response rates to the census than almost any other state in the country. It takes less than 10 minutes to help turn the tide.

- Young children under 5 were the most undercounted group in Montana during the last census. Make sure you count every person who lives in your home.

Taking the census is safe, easy, and confidential!
